Owing to the death of the clarinet player of the 9th Infantry band, the concert programme for New Year's eve has been abbreviated somewhat. The dance programme, however, will be correspondingly lengthened.

The excursion advertised to take place on Wednesday, December 29th, over the Prescott & Arizona Central railway from Prescott to Prescott Junction, has been postponed to January 1st, as the stores will be closed on that day and many can go who could not on the day first selected.

The east bound passenger train on the Atlantic & Pacific ran over a section hand one mile from Flagstaff on Monday night, instantly killing him. His name was Richard Hughes. He had been intoxicated and laid down on the track. No blame attaches to the engineer.

Did you ever pick up a paper published at some strange town and see a large advertisement about thinking to yourself, or saying to your neighbors, "That man is doing an immense business," and resolving to visit him the first opportunity? There is nothing like it. And when you put an advertisement in a paper don't imagine that you have donated so much to keep the editor out of the poor house.—EX.

The construction of the narrow gauge railroad to Globe and beyond to the wheat fields and beyond to the Gila county agricultural regions, will be the means of supplying Tucson with a large amount of vegetables and other agricultural products now brought from California. This alone is an important consideration, and yet it is the most important result which the road will give to Tucson and our prosperity.—Star.

Railroad Notes.

Tim Hawkins, who drove the first spike on the Prescott & Arizona Central railroad, has been selected to drive the last one.

The last spike will be driven Thursday.

So far last night over the Prescott & Arizona Central.

There are 147 names of persons on the great register who are over 60 years old, and consequently exempt from poll tax.

It will require 35,000 feet of lumber to manufacture boxes for the transportation of the records of the military headquarters.

The Mohave Miner announces that no contest will take place over the removal of the county seat from Mineral Park to Kingman.

Passengers on yesterday's outgoing stage were compelled to return to Prescott again last night on account of the non-arrival of the train.

Both locomotives of the Prescott & Arizona Central railroad, have been disabled which will delay for a few days the completion of the railroad.

E. M. Sanford who was a passenger on yesterday's stage returned last evening and took a fresh start by private conveyance to Ash Fork this morning.

The date of the proposed auction sale of thoroughbred bulls has been changed to Friday, December 31st, on account of the proposed excursion on New Year's day.

The grand jury this morning brought in an indictment against D. J. Conkey for false registration, and against L. W. Beach for obtaining money under false pretences.

Our contemporary is mistaken about the bulls offered for sale by Mr. Witherell. They are not graded, but thoroughbred. Mr. Witherell makes a guarantee of this.

The Star very correctly remarks that there are about a dozen candidates for every clerkship which the next legislature will be entitled to. That some of them will get left there are good reasons to believe.

Judge Porter has rendered a decision in favor of the hospital of the sisters of St. Joseph, as being exempt from taxation on account of being an almshouse institution.

The mail of the St. Louis-Yavapai company at Tip Top has been running without interruption for the past ten days. The roster was started up yesterday, and the prospect for a good yield is quite favorable.

The Kansas City Live Stock Indicator for this date is a proposed new departure on the part of one of its contributors and energetic firms: Irwin, Allen & Co. have made arrangements for the purchase of 5,000 acres of land in Arizona, most of it being new well set in alfalfa, on which they will establish a hog ranch, with 1,000 breeding sows. Arizona is regarded by them as the best hog raising country in the United States. Sows they say raise there from nine to twelve pigs each and lose none of them, and Irwin, Allen & Co. mean to take advantage of the opportunities and embark in that business.

The Bull Sale.

The auction sale of bulls Wednesday at the Coyote spring ranch was, for some reason, not attended with the success expected. The attendance was limited and out of fifty bulls offered for sale fifteen were sold at prices ranging from $55 to $110. The remainder of the herd will be brought to Prescott and offered for sale at auction at the Gray Eagle stable on Friday, December 31st, 1898.

Henry Goldwater received a very pretty Christmas present yesterday, an oil painting of rare merit and elegantly framed, and represents a view amid the mountains. The drawing is artistic and the coloring true to nature. The picture reflects great credit upon the artist, a young sister of Mr. Goldwater.—Yuma Sentinel.

A rumor was current on the street this morning that E. J. Cook, in addition to his alleged defalcation as county treasurer, was short in his accounts with a secret society, of which he has been treasurer, in the sum of $1,500 to $3,000. While the rumor seemed to have the impress of truth on its face, the most rigid inquiries from members of the society in question failed to elicit any definite information on the subject.

Professor H. J. Cartmel, pianist, and Robert Martin, violinist, gave the patrons of the Sarsaparilla saloon a rare and rich musical treat last evening by their artistic rendering of a number of the very latest musical compositions. While the dramatic art and musical critic of this enterprising newspaper was unable to obtain the names of all the selections comprising their repertoire, he recognized among them such rare classical gems as "The Arabian Traveler," "Paddy on the Turnpike," "The Devil's Dream," and "Leather Breeches," the delicate and impassioned expression of the rendering of which "brought down the house."

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition of 1887 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States, Mexico, and indeed in every civilized portion of the western hemisphere. This almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one-half of a century. It combines with the soundest practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar astronomical calculations, chronological items, etc., are prepared with great care, and will be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's almanac for 1887 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Co., Pittsburg, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp, will forward one copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

The fire in the assay office of F. A. Tritle, Jr., will not interfere in any manner with the work of that establishment. Assaying done on short notice.
